Spanish Game: QUIERO O NECESITO

Marcus Santamaria, the author of Synergy Spanish, has offered fantastic Spanish lessons for free. In his free lessons he gets right to the point and introduces Spanish verbs. Verbs are absolutely necessary to quickly form Spanish phrases and complete sentences in Spanish.

Powerfully, he combines reading, writing, pronouncing, listening, and repetition when presenting these lessons. He certainly does a great job and best of all he has given you access to not one, but four free Spanish lessons.

This game was made to add more practice for the concepts introduced in the first free lesson offered by Marcus Santamaria, in Synergy Spanish. In his first free Spanish lesson, he introduces two main verbs, quiero and necesito. Use this game to practice those two verbs and their negatives, no quiero and no necesito.

Other Spanish vocabulary words that he introduced are also included in this game. This gives you a chance to practice these new Spanish Vocabulary words along with the Spanish verbs and form more sentences on your own.

Repetition is a key factor to learning. Oral pronunciation is also very important when learning a language. Repetition and oral pronunciation are two main keys in this game.

Easily print the materials and you are on your way to adding to your Spanish repertoire!

Enjoy!

Here is wishing you fun learning!

Spanish Game 1: QUIERO y NECESITO

Goal: To practice forming sentences using quiero, necesito, no quiero, and no necesito

Materials:

Included: Game Board, back for board, die using numbers 1 to 3, and die using the verbs quiero, necesito, no quiero and no necesito.

Copy these and assemble the dice. There is a video on how to assemble the dice if you do not know how.

Alternative Materials: Verb cards to use instead of the die if you so please and a back for these cards.

Not included: Game pieces to represent the players (coins, small toy pieces, etc.) and a regular die

Directions: Each player throws the number die. The person with the highest number goes first.

First Player: Throw the number die along with the verb die. Pronounce aloud (in Spanish) the number and the verb that is thrown. Now, advance on the board the number of spaces corresponding to the number thrown on the die. (Count the first picture, the Chinese food, as space number 1.) Place your game piece here and identify the picture landed on (in Spanish!)

Now, orally produce a Spanish sentence using the verb on the die and the picture you have landed on.

You may add more Spanish words if you like—depending on how advanced you are. If you perform this task to the satisfaction of the other players, then you are safe and can stay on your space. If not, then you must go back to where you were until your next turn.

Next Player: Throw both the number die and the verb die. Identify orally in Spanish what you have thrown, advance the number of spaces, and then form a Spanish sentence orally using the picture on the board and the verb on the die.

Repeat this process, alternating players, until the path on the board has been completed. The first player to the end is the winner!

Add More Challenge and Excitement: In order to win, a player must end exactly on the final square (the vacation picture). If a player has thrown a number too large, then he/she must go backward on the board. (Example: If a player is on the second from last square

(the menu), he/she must throw a '1' exactly to win. If the player throws a '2', then he ends up back on his original square (the menu). If he/she throws a three, he ends up on (regresa 3) and has to go back another three squares.

The materials are here for you to use and practice, so adapt them to fit your situation. The object is to practice speaking Spanish in a fun way! Even a single player can use these games.

Alternatives: 1.If you do not want to assemble the dice, then you could use one regular die and the verb cards that are included.

Place the verb cards verb side down and instead of throwing the verb die, just choose a card. Use the verb on the card, along with the picture on the game board, to form your Spanish sentence.

Included in the cards are two wild cards.

This is to add more fun to your game. Use the wild cards in a variety of ways (decide on their use before you begin the game).

A few suggestions: a) Form a sentence using any of the verbs you are practicing.

b) Use two verbs and two pictures to form a longer sentence.

c) Form any Spanish sentence (or question) you like.

d) Keep it as a save card in case a sentence is formed incorrectly.

e) Use it to make another player to form a sentence.

2. Use the cards separately and test yourself with your writing and speaking. Choose a card. Form a sentence (or question) using that verb. Say it orally. Practice writing it.

Note: Copy the materials on a heavier paper. Laminate and they will last longer.
